

Newsboys, Break

Don't go thinking I'm crazy
But my fear is it's too late
Won't go making no trouble
'Cause I feel like I could break

All of those times I ran away
From all of those things I used to say
All of those plans I had
To give it all

And I feel like I could break
And I feel like I could break
Now, it's more than I can take
And I feel like I could break

Don't go thinking I'm crazy
But I'm feeling Your heart ache
Your creation through Your eyes
There is pain, it's no mistake

The closer I get to You I see
Soul's full of hurt, full of need
The closer I get I see
Less of me

And I feel like I could break
And I feel like I could break
Lord, I know it's getting late
Let my heart be broken by Your heart ache
And I feel like I could break
Now, it's more than I can take

'Cause all of those times I ran away
From all of those things I used to say
And all of those pains I feel
Reveal to me

And I feel like I could break
And I feel like I could break
Now, it's more than I can take
Let my heart be broken by Your heart ache
'Cause I feel like I could break
And I feel like I could break
Lord, I know it's getting late
Let my heart be broken by Your heart ache

Don't go think I'm crazy
But I feel like
