

Newsboys, Let It Rain

a fisher of men remembers....

and I have waded in wonder as with a word You calmed a raging sea
I have seen You make the wine from water
mud and water made a blind man see
water still reminds me of the seaside where our eyes first met

let it rain
Lord, we're waiting for Your rain
to fall
bringing back the wonder of
it all
and I can see your face again
when you let it rain

and I've been bathed in mercy by every gesture, every word You've said once I spoke of power and high position
you took a towel and washed my feet instead
water, like a promise
heaven opens, but I'm not there yet

to fall

I've been foolish thought I knew it all three times I denied Your name Your forgiveness, like a waterfall washes away my shame

a new dawn is breaking another hour, and then I leave this place
I am ready, Lord, to give my life up I'm so ready, Lord, to see Your face
and in this final hour, I think my final prayer shall be would you let it rain?
let Your Spirit fall afresh on me
