

Nicholis Louw, Without You

I'm giving you up just to see you smile
I'm hoping that you'll make it better
I'll open the door for a little while to let you go
But you should know that I'm

Crying because you're lying
And I don't want you to know that my heart is dying
Without you

Seems like a lifetime has passed me by
But you've always gone and made it better
And baby I need you to make me smile
My heart's been yours for all this time and now I'm

And all the times we laughed when we were less than lovers
The little things and sexy smiles that won me over
Baby baby leaving would be murder
Don't you love me anymore

Seems like a lifetime has passed me by
