Ain't Gonna Rain Anymore

Once there came a storm in the form of a girl

It blew to pieces my snug little world

Sometimes I swear I can still hear her howl

Down through the wreckage and the ruins

And it ain't gonna rain anymore

Now my baby's gone

And it ain't gonna rain anymore

Now my baby's gone

Now the storm has passed over me

I'm left to drift on a dead calm sea

And watch her forever through the cracks in the beams

Nailed across the doorways of the bedrooms of my dreams

And it ain't gonna rain anymore

Now my baby's gone

And it ain't gonna rain anymore

Now my baby's gone

Now I got no one to hold

Now I am all alone again

It ain't too hot but it ain't too cold

And there is no sign of rain

And it ain't gonna rain anymore

Now my baby's gone

And it ain't gonna rain anymore

Now my baby's gone

And I'm

Here I'm on my own

She ain't coming back no more

She ain't coming back no more

She ain't coming back no more

Say what you will, I don't care

And it ain't gonna rain anymore

Now my baby's gone, yeah

And it ain't gonna rain anymore

Now my baby has gone
