Ain't Gonna Rain Anymore
Once there came a storm in the form of a girl
It blew to pieces my snug little world
Sometimes I swear I can still hear her howl
Down through the wreckage and the ruins

And it ain't gonna rain anymore Now my baby's gone And it ain't gonna rain anymore Now my baby's gone

Now the storm has passed over me I'm left to drift on a dead calm sea And watch her forever through the cracks in the beams Nailed across the doorways of the bedrooms of my dreams

And it ain't gonna rain anymore Now my baby's gone And it ain't gonna rain anymore Now my baby's gone

Now I got no one to hold Now I am all alone again It ain't too hot but it ain't too cold And there is no sign of rain

And it ain't gonna rain anymore Now my baby's gone And it ain't gonna rain anymore Now my baby's gone And I'm Here I'm on my own

She ain't coming back no more She ain't coming back no more She ain't coming back no more Say what you will, I don't care

And it ain't gonna rain anymore Now my baby's gone, yeah And it ain't gonna rain anymore Now my baby has gone
