

Nick Jonas, Dear Good

Oohhh

Dear God

I hat to be a bother, but I go to say

This world is getting crazier with every day

I hope Youll hear me out now as I stop and pray

Dear God

People take Your words and try to twist them 'round

I know You cant be happy with whats goin down

Im searching for some answers, but they cant be found

Can You help me out?

Dear God

Oohhh

Dear God

Just the other night I heard somebody say

Whats the use believing in You anyway?

I guess it was just heartache talking through the pain

Its a crying shame

Dear God,

I know Youre disappointed in the things weve done

Cant they see the truth that theyre all running from?

Try to preach You message with a loaded gun

What they thinkin of?

Dear God

Oohhh

Oohhh

Everybodys searching for an easy solution

Yeah

They cant see beyond, the selfish world theyre living in

Your words of love get lost, in all the confusion

Yeas they do

But I still believe

Someday Youre going to speak to me

Dear God,

I know Youve got a million other calls to take

Youre dealing with a lot of things that just wont wait

But there is one request that I just gotta make

Ohhh whoa

Dear God

Wont You send a sign down, just to ease my doubt

Im trying to hear You, but the silence is so loud

I think I see a rainbow from behind the clouds

And I hear You now,

Dear God.
