

Nikki Flores, This Girl

There's a girl livin' in this town Shes got her head up in the sky but her feet are on the ground There's a girl livin' on my street
She knows outside her little world Somehow ends are gunna meet
And when the roads get kinda rough She keeps one thing in mind
The longest journey always starts with Once about a time
And this girl has seen a lot of pain
But this girls gonna smile again
But she knows a flower grows everytime
It rains
And this girls got a lot of dreams
She knows that tommorrow isn't what it seems
She might not solve a mystery tonight
But this girls gunna be alright

Theres a girl walking in these shoes And she knows that everythings she got is all shes got to loose Theres a dream right behind these eyes
And she finds a reason to be strong with every tear she dries Being hard to fight the way things are so she leaves the world behind with the sound of doubt turned up so loud she turns the music up inside

::CHORUS::

And this girls seen a lot of pain
but this girls gunna smile again she knows that a flower grows everytime it rain
and this girls got a lot of dreams
she knows that tommorrow ain't what it seems
she might not solve a mystery tonight
but this girls gunna be alright

She knows it so much she's never seen but time will allow her to find out what it means

And this girls seen a lot of pain
but this girls gunna smile again she knows that a flower grows everytime it rain
and this girls got a lot of dreams
she knows that tommorrow ain't what it seems
she might not solve a mystery tonight
but this girls gunna be alright
Alright, shes gunna be alright
