It's time to state your name
It's time to stake your claim
But it's not everyone else's problem
And it's not anyone else's fault

You wanna feel okay
You wanna think you've tried hard
But it's not everyone else's problem
And it's not anyone else's fault

I know it's important
To feel justified
I know you thought everything
Would be much easier

It's time to show your face
It's time to know yourself
'Cause it's not everyone else's problem
And it's not anyone else's fault

You wanna feel okay
You wanna think you've tried hard

I know it's important
To feel justified
I know you thought everything
Would be much easier
