Nine Days, Fallen

(K. Edwards/M. Walz) Darken my eyes With innocence And Capture my life In a red paper box I've fallen from this world Fallen from reality And broken my wings Spreading out our history over thorns and nails My little child My little child help me I've fallen (Whisper) You break me with your porcelain hands You take me to painful lands You break me Into tears and blood Did you want me? Did you want my love?
