

No Angels, The rythm of my heart

I never knew
It could be like this
Im surprised to see how it turned out
When youre life
Takes a different turn
And every little thing is rearranged
The rythm of my heart
you came along and changed it
This is where it starts
And it can be amazing
I close my eyes and count to ten
And when i open them again
You change the rythm of my heart
An open door
The smile Id waited for
If i could hold a moment in my hand
With every beat
Were stronger than before
Funny how it seems to work out right
The rythm of my heart
You came along and changed it
This is where it starts
And it can be amazing
I close my eyes and count to ten
And when i open them again
You change the rythm of my heart
Fragile and confused
But you can never see it
What youre going through Youve gotta feel it to believe It
Some things are meant to be
Its within reach for me
