No Doubt, Different People

Things can be broken down
In this world of ours
You don't have to be a famous person
Just to make your mark
A mother can be an inspiration
To her little son
Change his thoughts, his mind, his life,
Just with her gentle hum
So different, yet so the same
Two sisters only have their parents to blame
It's rare that two can get along
But when they do, they're inseparable
Such a blessing comes to few

[Chorus:]

The sky is full of clouds and My world's full of people All different kinds with different ways It would take a lifetime to explain No one's exactly the same He and she, two different people With two seperate lives

Then you put the two together
And get a spectacular surprise
'Cause one can teach the other one
What she doesn't know
While still the other fills a place inside
He never knew had room to grow

[Chorus:] Once in a while I sit back And think about the plane

And think about the planet Most of the time I trip on it To kick back and think about How massive it all is

And how many others are on it

I often think about the world In which I live today, of animals and plants And nature's gift set in display But the most amazing thing That I've seen in my time

Are all the different people And all their different minds And different ways It would take a lifetime to explain

No one's exactly the same So many different people So many different kinds So many, many, many different people So many different

Look at me, I'm a person Look at me, I'm my own person So many different people So many different kinds For better or for worse, different people
