No Doubt, Under Construction

Success serenades me And pressures at the door Broken promise debris Lie around from my mind war And my accomplishments interrogating me Today's become tomorrow before I wanted it to be

Desperate discussions Disturb the destruction I assigned in my mind I'll be find, I'll be fine

'Cause I'm under construction everyone so you'll have to mind the mess I'm under some construction

I always had to try harder
I never really could keep up
Sitting in the corner
With my illness and bad luck
But in this humble place
I'm feeling like red wine
And I hope to get better with some time
I'll be fine, in some time I'll be fine

'Cause I'm under construction everyone So you'll have to mind the mess I'm under some construction

Correction Modification Alteration Construction

And the rituals that soothe and disgust me Will be gone in some time, I'll be fine In some time I'll be fine, I'll be fine

'Cause I'm under construction everyone So you'll have to mind the mess I'm under some construction

Construction Feel better with some construction