

No Motiv, Broken And Burned

There you go giving your heart back to own you should wait around to see if they care But go ahead and see it will be one of your worst fears to be Gave your heart away not much left to say and apparently it seems to me You wasted all your time on a situation that should have been clear to you So now you know so betrayed the bitter ache that you wish would go away Anyway
I guess you know there's a price to pay for the trust you've given so easily away
But now I guess you'll see what it means to be heartbroken