

No Motiv, Remember

You will always be a part of me no matter what the case may be if you just give me some time to try you will always have me by your side I'm always here to make you feel alright...

Do you remember

I remember when you were so young and now I've seen how you have grown with nothing but a smile on your face but now that times have changed you are wearing nothing but a frown now every time I see you... You look so down...

Do you remember?

Can't you see I want to be your friend?

Why can't you ever comprehend?

I don't want to bug you anyway

I'll just come back another day life has been so good to you but you just turned away

you have everything you want and more and I don't have a thing
