

No One, Cut

Once again I am faced with conflict
Another challenge of life I will test
I am changing, I am changing
All who I am

No more time for any distractions
And walk away from any directions
I have taken, I have taken
All that I can

Cut I'm never gonna take away
If I don't ever make the change
Cut the weight and
Fuck all the human waste

Cut they're never gonna take away
The vision that I portray
No time to waste
I cut all that's in my way

With a breath of a fresh new light
I will start again
And say goodbye to all of my fake friends
Rearranging, rearranging all that I have

Seperate from more than I need
And part with these who doubt me
I am changing, I am changing
All that I am

Close my eyes and take a look at my life
Think of all the ways that I've been denied
Is it pride or is it timing
It's taking time but the road I'm finding

Healing back new from the Wounds that I've made
Stabbed myself a thousand times this way
To keep my pace up with the hill I'm climbing
I'll cut the ties of those that bind
