

No Use For A Name, Undefeated

I see you have lost the ambition to love
When did you get so hard and callous?
Things are good today,
But I think I've had enough,
Here comes the part where you turn off the switch

Everyone's dumb, taking the wind out of your sails,
Victory claims, this is your song,
How do you sleep when you're alone, when they are gone?

Over and over just like a broken toy,
Heard all excuses, what makes you do it?
You pedal back for miles, just to claim the prize,
Here is the exit, to your home built on lies

Nothing is true,
How can you expect them to stay?
Undefeated, who did you burn?
Cannot be taught, everyone's hurt, nothing is learned.
Cannot be taught, everyone's hurt, nothing is learned.
