

Noel Gallagher's High Flying Birds, Dead To The

I can lend you a dream
'Til we meet again
I'm dead to the world
I don't know where I've been

And if you say so
I'll bend over backwards
For love

Gonna write you a song
Won't take me long
You can change all the words
And still get them wrong

And if you say so
I'll bend over backwards

But if love ain't enough
To make it alright
Leave me dead to the world
If love ain't enough
To make it alright
Leave me dead to the world
'Cause I'm sleeping

It's time to let go
I'm bent over backwards
I'm so tired
Let these be my last words

If love ain't enough
To make it alright
Leave me dead to the world
If love ain't enough
To make it alright
Leave me dead to the world
If love ain't enough
To make it alright
Leave me dead to the world
If love ain't enough to make it alright
Make it alright
Make it alright
It's too bad
'Cause I'm sleeping

I can lend you a dream
'Til we meet again
I'm dead to the world
I don't know where I've been
