

Nordeman Nichole, I Wish The Same For You

If I tried to tell you
If I tried to find a way
To explain this freedom
Of living underneath this grace
Would it be absurd?
Can a heart be heard?
To think you might see
A difference in me ...
And I wish the same for you
Something to hold onto
I wish the same for you
A chance for love
We are not so different
Sons and daughters, you and I
Facing walls of questions
Fearing answers on the other side of eternity ...
And what the day will bring
But I finally found
The safe and the sound ...
To dance in the daylight
And not see my shadow
To run where I cannot hide
In the open wide ...
