

Norma Jean, Wife Of The Party

We both know a certain party I won't mention any names
But you think you love this party who's brought me so much pain
I don't know what he's told you but I'll bet you think he's free
Well I'm the wife of this party and he still belongs to me
I'm the wife of the party you go out with every night
I'm the wife of the party who holds you so tight
In the arms of this party you don't have the right to be
For the wife of the party is me

When you look this certain party he's a laughing boy I know
He's the life of every party you should see him when he's home
Always tired always sleeping resting up to be with you
I should just let you keep him but you see I love him too
I'm the wife of the party...
Yes the wife of the party is me
