

November Blessing, Haunt Me

Just know that where you are and when you can't sleep just look up at the stars and do the same as me I see your eyes in the moon tonight gives me more chills than the coldest night I feel your presence all around me it's like a ghost that i can't see If i could pick one ghost to haunt me no hesitation that yours would be the one all though it wouldn't be much of a haunting i'd take you all for myself Cause i don't need anyone else A cold chill runs up my spine I feel it for the first time and just know that when you're asleep i'm still breaking into your dreams
i see your eyes in the moon tonight
gives me more chills than the coldest night
I feel your presence all around me
it's like a ghost that i can't see
no hesitation that yours would be the one
all though it wouldn't be much of a haunting i'd take you all for myself Cause i don't anyone else So i sit here hoping for one thing that after we live and love you will haunt me
