

NRG, Regret

I still have so many things to say to you
I didnt even say goodbye to you
I needed to let you go without being able to say anything
And I was so ashamed of myself because of that
(Rap)

Its late at night and I already decided to break up with you
The time keeps passing and eventually I ended up not saying anything
And I hated myself for just turning around and leaving
I hate myself for trying to talk about my tomorrow
I toss in bed miserably crying. What use is it crying? It was my foolish decision
Are we really not for each other? Is it that?

I cant do anything about it either, this is our destiny
I'll be there for you Please dont leave me, dont be shaken
I'll be there for you Its not too late, my heart and my love still remains here
I want to find my love that is deeply hidden in my heart
Where are you? What are you doing? I seem so pathetic like this
(Rap)

I am wandering around the streets..
Because of my regrets of breaking up because of my lingering attachment
Even if I cry, you will not come back
Even when I clutched my cellphone and cried, the phone did not ring
Am I just yearning? Is it that? Or am I really loving you? Please come back to me
I'll be there for you Please dont leave me, dont be shaken
I'll be there for you Its not too late, my heart and my love still remains here
I want to find my love that is deeply hidden in my heart
Where are you? What are you doing? I seem so pathetic like this
Dont leave me here with just painful wounds
I cant stop now, I cant go back
Dont leave me, please come back
I'll be there for you Please dont leave me, dont be shaken
I'll be there for you Its not too late, my heart and my love still remains here
I want to find my love that is deeply hidden in my heart
Where are you? What are you doing? I seem so pathetic like this
I'll be there I'll be there Let me see open your mind
I'll be there I'll be there
