

Numic, Push

Who ever said I could trust you they never told me your lies I never thought I would need to decide Whenever I said I need you you'd always shove me aside I never said I would help you take that piece of me

So push me away,
and breathe me away
push me away, far away

No matter how much we've been through no matter how hard I try I can't pretend you don't hurt me inside Whenever I try to leave you all of a sudden you're mine scratching with your innocence and my hope this time

So push me away,
and breathe me away

Face this this is no longer bliss this is pain that keeps lingering on I have to carry on away, always Is this the last mistake I'll make?

So push me away,
and breathe me away

push me away, breathe me away
