Ocean Colour Scene, Beautiful Losers

Your dream make-up is cracked and wearing thin Your eyes are on your chin It's getting hard for you But to make up is only make-believe And we don't need a scene like this Whatever happened to the Beautiful Losers Whatever happened to the Beautiful Losers Your eyes closed and dreamed of places that you and I would go It's getting hard for me to love you, like I used to I don't believe "hello" Do you? Whatever happened to the Beautiful Losers Whatever happened to the Beautiful Losers
