

Ocean Colour Scene, For Every Corner

I'll take your side and I'll take you into town
And there you'll search around
You hope she must be waiting now
Found what you need don't push her too far
Don't ever let her see you down
I hope she's waiting now

It's not that she has been around too long to never try
Too Long to never try

For every corner there's a way out
And every day that you lose there's a pay out
There's a pay out

And if she cries you know it will be fine
With things now on your side don't frown
She is waiting now
But if she sings, then she's taken all you bring
To her you mean all things you smile
She's waiting now

It's not that she has been around too long to never try
Too Long to never try

For every corner there's a way out
And every day that you lose there's a pay out
There's a pay out

But don't you think the time will come when you'll get in her way
Or she'll bring you down the same

For every corner there's a way out
And every day that you lose there's a pay out
There's a pay out
