

Oceansize, As The Smoke Clears

Speak with what eloquence you can muster
Say what you feel after the moment
Think the way that everyone has taught you
Just scream aloud and prove everyone right

Breathe and sing and play

Chameleon an inherited demeanour
We share
Well I'll take and let you give again and again and again
But still I stumble
He's driving too fast
A hundred questions I'm too scared to ask

Breathe and sing and play

I can't seem to breathe it out
I can't seem to spit it out

I can't seem to breathe it out
I can't seem to spit it out

Sickness in a clouded mind
It stays with me
It grows with time
It's not easy now
It should be easy now
To move me with your eyes and make me melt away
It's not easy now
It should be easy now
