

Octavia Sperati, Soundless

Everything breaks down through messy reflections
And sound waves penetrate consciousness
The engaging condition amends
Uncomfortably severance from tranquility

Softly dreaming of superficial life
Reflecting the real one
Dreaming, dreaming

So easily sliding
Through intermediate state and towards its end
Dreaming, dreaming, dreaming
Soundless comforting the mind

I`m shivering, I`m cold
I am all alone for all time
I am surrounded by love and endless warmth
But they can`t reach me
Cause I can`t open

Shadows coil up our surroundings
Penetrate our harts
When we thought we were safe for a while
She dwells on the past over and over again
Take a breath
Relax for a minute
And get the hell out of my life!!

Softly dreaming of superficial life
Reflecting the real one
Screaming, screaming

So easily sliding
Through intermediate state and towards its end
Screaming, Screaming, Screaming
