

Odds, Anybody Else But Me

You may love me
But you won't have me
seems like you'll sleep with anybody else but me
I may love you
But I won't have you
And i'm gonna sleep with anybody else but you

So leave your clothes between the sheets with anybody else but me taste the salty, taste the sweet of anybody else but me walking round town hand in hand
making out in the boiling sand with anybody else but me

You may love me
and i'm going to sleep with anybody else but you Anybody else but you....

now the ground is shaking breaking us in pieces i'm the spy next door my vigil never ceases

So put the key under the plant for anybody else but me i'll call you up and let you say you can't for anybody else but you watch sunset blvd. in black and white
sleep in the yard on a stormy night with anybody else but you

You may love me
ohhh... anybody else but you anybody else but you
ya ya ya
