

Old Man's Child, Fall of Man

Once in a time and place so far away when man stood strong and brave, scars from a past, the ancient blood shall stream through our veins once again Die... they have deceived us die... we must come forth die... let us kill together die... and heal our wounds The preach of salvation the words of Christ a war for a holy domain, we shall burn their fortress and enter we will prepare to fall, into an endless grave Reveal our past and fulfil my dreams show us the way were supposed to live We are natures failure a creature born to demise, we are the alien strangers a creature that has lost it's place