

Old Man's Child, The Flames Of Deceit

Fallen through ages
Seduced by time
Fallen through glory
And born as divine
On whom they praise
The saviour of might
On whom they put faith
Evil, collide with hate
On with the battle conquer thier soil
Rape the messiah, beseige and control
Raised in belief of fictions so pale
Go to your god and see how you fail
Fade away into the dark
My child we welcome thee
Fade away into the dark
My world... your fantasy
On through the dusk
In dimensions they weep
On through the light
The flames of deceit
With reign of terror the seasons begin
Master your harvest demons of sin
Black winged through the night we roam
Enter the world from the world beyond
