

Oleander, Bruise

She holds her head within her hands quietly reeling
If only he could understand
What she's feeling

She moves into me
To kiss my shoulder
With emergency .. for me to hold her (me to hold her)

It's all I want when I'm lost
It's all I need when I'm down
It's all I have when I lose
It's just a bruise

He holds his head within his hands contemplating
If only she could understand
Without waiting

She moves into me
To kiss my shoulder
With emergency for me to hold her (me hold her)

It's all I want when I'm lost
She's all I need when it's old
She's all I have when I lose
It's just a bruise

And its all we ever know

It's all I want when I'm down
She's all I need when it's old
It's all I have when I lost
It's just a bruise

She's everything

When I lose, its just a bruise.
