

Oleander, You'll Find Out

Even if you turn away
Sweep it all aside
under the rug
Nothing ventured nothing gained
But your problems still remain
If your living in denial
Afraid to face yourself
Wasted all the time
When I look into your eyes
I see something inside of you that was once inside of me
And I've been there before
I nearly lost my wife my friends and more

You'll find out sooner or later
You find out sooner or later...
You find out sooner or later
You find out sooner or later...

If your life becomes a mess
And put you to the test
Just like all the rest
When I look into your eyes
I see something inside of you

You'll find out sooner or later
You find out sooner or later...
You find out sooner or later
You find out sooner or later

You'll find out sooner or later
You find out sooner or later...
You find out sooner or later
You find out sooner or later
