Olivia Lufkin, Winter sleep

It keeps coming back to me

I remember this pain

It spreads across my eyes

Everything is dull

Everyone's smiling, they're smiling

It pushes me far far away

L can't understand

Everything is blue

Can you hear me out there?

Will you hold me now...? Hold me now, My frozen heart

I'm gazing from the distance and

I feel everything pass through me

I can't be alone right now

Will you hold me now...? Hold me now, My frozen heart

I'm lost in a deep winter sleep

I can't seem to find my way out alone

Can you wake me?

I know when I let it in

It hides love from this moment

So I guard it close

I watch the move it makes

But ir gets me, but it gets me

I wish I could understand how I

Could make it disappear, make it disappear

Anyone out there hear me now?

Will you hold me now...? Hold me now, My frozen heart

Kiss my lips and maybe you can take to your world for now

I can't be alone right now

Will you hold me now...? Hold me now, My frozen heart

Please make it all go away

Am I ever gonna feel myself again?

I hope I will

Will you hold me now...? Hold me now, My frozen heart

I'm gazing from the distance and

I feel everything pass through me

I can't be alone right now

Will you hold me now...? Hold me now, My frozen heart

I'm lost in a deep winter sleep

I can't seem to find my way out alone

Can you wake me?
