

Olly Murs, Look at the Sky

Look at the sky as you walk through life
So that tears won't overflow your heart
As you remember the spring's day so bright
On this lonely, lonely night

Look at the sky when you walk through life
See how the stars blow away your tears flow
As you remember the summer's day so bright
On this lonely, lonely night

Happiness may seem just out of sight
Beyond the clouds, try as we might

Look at the sky as you walk through life
So that tears won't overflow your heart
As we cry our way down the street
On this lonely, lonely night

As you remember all autumn's day so bright
On this lonely, lonely night

All the sadness is something we find out too soon
There in the stars and the shadow of the moon
Look at the sky when you walk through life
So that tears won't overflow your heart

As we cry in our winter's days
On this lonely, lonely night

On this lonely, lonely night
Look at the sky when you... walk through life
On this lonely night