

Oman Freestyle, It's Raining

It's a peaceful night
All is still and quiet
and slowly it starts to come down

It's always dark
When you first realize it
and slowly it starts to come down

It's raining...
The start of something better
Yet emptiness still fills my heart
It's raining...
Can't tell if she's crying
Can't find the right words to say

Look away
Hear the sound of nothing
Sigh as you're falling away

It's raining...
The start of something better
Yet emptiness still fills my heart
It's raining...
Can't tell if she's crying
Can't find the right words to say

It's a peaceful night
Don't know if I will be back
It's a peaceful night
Don't know if I will be back

It's raining...
The start of something better
Yet emptiness still fills my heart
It's raining...
Can't tell if she's crying
It's raining...
The street light fades behind me
Washing my heart in the night
