

On Thorns I Lay, Enigma

I think I have lost my way
Like ruin my soul
Throwing away
Into a city not mine non yours
Do you remember?

And I was running
Every spring around the earth
To find a hope
To bring you the first rose

I saw you there first time
Do you remember?
You are missing a winter and seems for five
Do you remember?

And I was running
Every spring around the earth
To find a hope
To bring you the first rose

I saw you there first time
Do you remember?
You are missing a winter and seems for five
Do you remember?
