

Once Nothing, Waves

I wanna see waves, upon waves, upon seas of blood.
Flood it all, let us down in a sea of blood.
It's a beautiful thing, this spinning globe
but I'm not born of this and I'm a long way from home.
So I'll wait by the sea, to let the waves crash over me.
Cover the nation, make your presence know.
I want to see waves.
I have built my walls and drawn my lines.
Rise, rain down.
Can I get a hallelujah, right now?
