

One Bad Pig, I'm Not Getting Any Older

I was running from the reaper, but I found I could not hide
I was stranded in the desert til I cought myself a ride
I was scrounging, I was starving - the bread I tasted satisfied
I used to see with tunel vision, then my horizon opende wide
My horizon opende wide

Chorus:

Im not getting any older
Im not getting any older
Cuz I died not long ago
Im not getting any older
Now Im only getting younger
Now forevers all I know

I was shaking, I was sweating, then I drank of the sweet new wine
I was in a dark and empty room, and then I saw the "Exit" sign
I was seeking true religion, then I myself became a shrine
I always feared my dying breath, I let it out and life was mine
I let it out and life was mine

Im not getting any older
Im not getting any older
Cuz I died not long ago
Im not getting any older
Now Im only getting younger
Now forevers all I know

Youve got to die if you want to live
And if you want to love, youve got to give
If you want to love, youre going to cry
You wont live again until you die

I was seeking true religion, then I myself became a shrine
I always feared my dying breath, I let it out and life was mine
I let it out and life was mine

Im not getting any older
Im not getting any older
Cuz I died not long ago
Im not getting any older
Now Im only getting younger
Now forevers all I know
(2x)

(Ad Lib til end)
