

One Dollar Short, Boardgame

It's so typical and often statistical.
You thought it was over and then you've done a U-turn.
Back to where you started,
Snake and ladders, they have parted.
Roll the dice, take that chance.

You want to be brave,
And you want to be behave.
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah.

Back to square one,
And you want to know why nothings getting done?
Back to square one,
And you're wondering why your plans are coming undone?

Spin the wheel and pick a number,
Put one foot, in front of the other.
Don't pass go, lose a turn.
You're out of the game,
Past the point of no return.

You want to be brave,
And you want to be behave.
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah.

Back to square one,
And you want to know why nothings getting done?
Back to square one,
And you're wondering why your plans are coming undone?

Back to square one....