

One Dollar Short, Cartoons & Chalkboards

Do you remember your school days?
And making new friends?
I remember the good old days,
The days of fun and curious things done:.

But- why must times change?
And good friends seem to fade away?
So many childhood memories,
And I wish that they were here to stay.

I don't want to grow up anymore,
I wish I could stay a kid forever,
I don't want get any older now,
Wish there was a way of staying young somehow.

I took my books and my little lunch,
Packed in my school case,
I remember my first school dance,
I remember holding her hands,
It was my first true romance.

I don't want to grow up anymore,
I wish I could stay a kid forever,
I don't want get any older now,
Wish there was a way of staying young somehow.
