

One Fine Day, Fading Gray

sign in sign out take the reasons back tell me what it's all about just step in and step out there are a million different lovesongs but they're all so far away and it hurts to see you lying naked in this fading gray

turn inside out paint the reasons black everything that really counts is breathing in and breathing out

there are a million different lovesongs
but they're all so far away
and it hurts to see you lying
naked in this fading gray breathe in breathe out so here is one more simple lovesong nothing left for me to say