

One Side Zero, Holding Cell

Say you wanna breathe comfort eyes wide open I've forgotten you come alive you celebrate your arms wide open hands are broken silent for tonight

Say, heaven will know. If you say, heaven should know.

holding all that you have chosen I have spoken for what's right circling all your hands are broken I'll surrender for one night

Say, heaven will know. If you say, heaven should know.

silent, so long, wish I could come home, feel like the world has been pushing me o lord what you feel deep inside, i'd hold your breath until you cry silent, so long, wish I could let go, my arms have held too long to know inside, so weak, hold on one more day, believed you would reach down and Say, heaven will know. If you say, heaven should know.
