

One Side Zero, The Day We Lied

I'll tuck you in, make sure the noose is tight moving from side to side, inhibits your will to fight I'll hold you always, clipping your wings away laughing at your dismay, till your end is crowned hold you always beauty in your eyes escape to your world please ambush your thoughts this way, believe in this love affair collecting your silence, please, comfort all your fears now I want you always, clipping your wings away tying you up this way, till your end is crowned tying you up this way, clipping your wings away, I'm holding you always,

I'm clipping your wings away don't you wish you could fly, I'll come close, the end is near
