

One Track Mind, homefree

you try to explain to me, and the reason that you left me and why, your always someone new, the words fade together everything you just said means nothing, what am I supposed to do

All the things i had that you took away from me
home free

so now you call me up, and now you wanna see how im doin wanna spend some time alone but our rest helped me see the feelings i had for you better off on my own

all the things i had that you took away from me
home free
and i dont know where to go now that you have left me and i dont know who to tell about the times you hurt me and i dont know where to go now that your not and i and i dont care about the times we lied in bed ?

(bckgrnd singing)
all the things i had that you took away from me
