

Onesidezero, Awake

so sorry whisper all night, I lay here deep in silent plight my head consumes the light, too much thought my life's evolving I wish that I could buy, another world that's all grown up inherit sleepless cries, I'd rather kill the torment kill the torment

chorus:

say it's alright

can't, I won't hold, I'm always awake should this time you forgive leave surrender awake you've seen the worst of my dreams

I can't escape this endless breach holding on so tight writing lover's stories hopeless so place on my eyes, the sounds of my life can't wait see my hands above her see my hands above her

you're always looking
