

Onslaught, Let There Be Death

The fires are burning deep down in hell
The warlords are ready to rise
Forces of evil angels of sin bloodlust
And hate in their eyes
Nations lie wait in the fear of their death
Standing one foot in the grave
Satan pronounces let death be to all
That none of the living are saved

Hellbound the horsemen
Ride let there be death to all
Ride through the burning skies
See that no one survives
Send their souls to hell
Let there be death!

Nuclear warfare raging on earth
Destruction the ultimate key
Life termination the only reward
No living beyond his decree
Bodies turn vapour a ghost of the past
The souls are delivered to hell
Satan pronounces let death be to all
The warlords are under his spell

Hellbound the horsemen
Ride let there be death to all
Ride through the burning skies
See that no one survives
Send their souls to hell
Let there be death!

Blinding light the fireball illuminates the sky
Death force captive of the cloud that lurks above
Searing heat the fires coalesce into a storm
No retreat Satan holds the power of the gods

Satan stands watching alone in his ground
He laughs with a deafening cry
Evil and hatred vengeance and death
The fires are burning the sky
Earth is now wasteland infernal hell
Nothing but darkness remains
Satan's awaiting to regain the crown
Return it to hell's dark domain

Hellbound the horsemen
Ride let there be death to all
Ride through the burning skies
See that no one survives
Send their souls to hell
Let there be death!
