

Operation Ivy, Uncertain

authority is wrong, authority is right
authority is wrong, authority is right humanity in turmoil in the circular fight outside and far beyond these walls we've built I've learned to see the beauty we've killed

I hate you, you hate him
I hate you, you hate him unfocused hatred seeks a victim outside and far beyond these walls we've built I've learned to see the beauty we've killed

outside, I'm looking in, I'm uncertain
outside, I'm looking in, I'm uncertain

the world is black, the world is white why think one way, why see the light
I've learned to see the beauty we've killed

I've learned to see the beauty we've killed

outside, I'm looking in, I'm uncertain
outside, I'm looking in, I'm uncertain

Last night I and said she couldn't sleep and scary things and images The things that we perceive, the things that we believe The voice inside my head that says that we have been deceived.

a thousand years ago completely unintelligible line even though we're animals another unintelligible line

the world is black, the world is white I'm looking in, I'm uncertain

I've learned to see the beauty we've killed

outside, I'm looking in, I'm uncertain
outside, I'm looking in, I'm uncertain
