Ya, we're back

I told you that I was packing up my bags
Didn't you believe me, still you never see me
Look, I'm up on your roof with my light-weight power-zoom tight-frame eighty-star spyglass
Click-click, I'm never backlit
I pass my shift for the development
I stay up late just to get the job done
I'm paid by the frame so I wait for the perfect one
Oh here they come, sorry gotta go
Pop the lens-cap, sit back, relax for the show
Then it's click-click, the sound of success
I pack up my shit when I hit your address

Click-clicker, click-clicker

(develop it) let it soak in, dunk it, shake it off and toss it on the rope then
(sell the shit) it's easily done, make a phone call, cash in, it's nationally run Oh you
(treasure it) you build a little shrine, take me to the basement wall where you hide for the (hell of it) it's really not a joke the (development) you gotta let it soak, see

Call the police, you can never make it stick
See I'm neat, I'm organized, thorough and discreet
I judge my subjects by the company they keep Look it's clear, I'm always here, you might not know that I'm near Feel like someone's peeping? That's probably me creeping
Click-Click, you know, then I keep it classy
Bad-forecast? I just wrap it up in plastic
I never let a little drizzle keep me home
I got my topolin, wax pencils and a phone
Twist the wrist right, zoom in kinda tight
It's wednesday night I know you're watching Top Model
I even know the type of bottle that you are gonna buy when your boyfriend stops in to have a sip of wine
Then it's click-click, I capture the toast
Infatuated from afar like a ghost

Click-clicker, click-clicker

(develop it) let it soak in, dunk it, shake it off and toss it on the rope then
(sell the shit) it's easily done, make a phone call, cash in, it's nationally run Oh you
(treasure it) you build a little shrine, take me to the basement wall where you hide for the (hell of it) it's really not the joke the (development, sell the shit, treasure it)

I am over on your roof, I like watching what you do
I got shots that show your mind, please just do not close the blinds

Hey girl, welcome to the neighborhood
Yeah I noticed you like french toast late at night
Hey girl, welcome to the neighborhood
Yeah I saw your new jeans I don't think they fit right
