

Orange Range, SP Thanx

I can't move on from that day, in this noisy city
"Where should I go?" I've cast aside that confusion, and endured the tears that flowed
When I open my eyes, my vision is blurred, my mother's form
For the first time, I clung to the answer that didn't give, "do what you want"
There was something back there, a key softly pushed at my heavy back, just one word
The meaning of what I fight for made my confidence strong with all of my might, in the end the one
That's right, you brought me around
The light is guided toward tomorrow; my fluttering dreams scatter in the palm of my hand
The morning tells me of the coming day, where did the quiet night go to?
People walk around, and again search for their individual dreams
Flowers, trees, people, the winds, and the oceans, they all pass through the same circle together
Flowers, trees, people, the winds, and the oceans, they all pass through the same circle together
"There are equal goals in the place I'm aiming for", so there are a lot of things I overlook
Stop and look around you! When I did, I noticed the important things
I received bottomless amounts of love; thank you from the bottom of my heart, mom and dad, my friends
My two legs are standing right here, and everyone has given me a boost
It's not so great that I have dreams, but I'm not in such a hurry to have no dreams
Today's step will change the scenery, and it will make the future
A journey to the great deep, I feel the wind of those who support me
I catch the wind with my back, that became a sail, and then I turn starboard with all my might
The light is guided toward tomorrow; my fluttering dreams scatter in the palm of my hand
The morning tells me of the coming day, where did the quiet night go to?
People walk around, and again search for their individual dreams
