

Oratory, Metal Messenger

In the beginning of times
Appeared a mysterious messenger Nobody knew from where he came Or what he would bring to them
He brought a new awakening
A symphony in their hearts
A melody never heard again
But never turned apart

You gave us the light
You brought us the strength To keep on this fight

Metal Messenger
You gave us the light
You brought us the strength To keep on
this quest and fight

When he went to the unknown
He left a kingdom of harmony
A hymn of enchanted sounds
And a new song was born

He brought a new awakening
A symphony in their hearts
A melody never heard again
But never turned apart

You gave us the light
You brought us the strength To keep on
this fight
Metal Messenger
You gave us the light
You brought us the strength To keep on
this quest and fight!
