

Ordo Rosarius Equilibrio, Hunting For The Black S

Little black bird that sullies the earth; depart to where deserts converge
The ending of war, detains to befall; sustain their endeavor to fall

Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september

Render your wastes, on the spires of pray; garnish the lands of dismay
Claims of bequest emerge in contest; absolve and relinquish distress

Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september

Herald of prey, give rise to decay; ascend the afflictions of fray
Besmirch and appease, contribute relief; forsake a solution of peace

Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september
Hunting for the black september